Community helpers do special jobs to help their community. We can help community helpers by volunteering, or working without pay. We can also help by giving them donations, like money or items to help with their work.

In the chart's first two columns below, read each community helper's job title and what they do for the community. In the third column, write down ways we might volunteer to help them. In the last column, write down what we could donate to them. Some blanks have been filled in to help you, but you can also add your ideas.

Community Helper	What They Do	How We Can Volunteer to Help Them	What We Could Donate to Them

1. Who is your favorite community helper? Draw a picture of them and show them doing something to help you and others.

2. Sometimes two or more kinds of community workers work together. Look at these community workers pictured below. Draw two different kinds of community workers helping each other and write a sentence below your picture to tell how they are helping each other.

My sentence about how the two workers are helping each other:
